AMONG CABINET MAKERS.

Senator Sherman Talks of Appointments.

DECLINES TO MAKE PREDICTIONS AS TO ASSOCIATES.

Senator Burrows Urges Appointment of Gen. Alger for War Department—Ex-Gov. Long Talks of His Visit to Canton.

Washington, January 16.—Senator Sherman reached Washington this morning after a brief visit to the President-elect. He confirmed the press dispatches that he had agreed to accept the Secretaryship of State and said that the information had been given out in Canton authoritatively. As to who his colleagues in the cabinet might be, the Senator declined to even make a prediction. That was a matter, he added, that rested entirely with Mr. McKinley.

Senator Burrows of Michigan returned from Canton on the same train with Mr. Sherman. Mr. Burrows spoke of Mr. Sherman's fitness for the duties he was about to assume and called attention to the fact that, although he would be at the head of the State Department, the President would still have his advice and counsel around the cabinet table on financial matters. Senator Burrows went to Canton to urge the selection of Gen. Alger as Secretary of War. While he did not return with the assurance that Gen. Alger would get it, Senator Burrows is favorably impressed with the chances of his candidate as exceedingly good.

Ex-Gov. Long Talks of His Visit to Canton.

Worcester, January 16.—Ex-Gov. John D. Long was seen by a reporter on the train as he went through Worcester this afternoon and expressed himself as highly satisfied with his trip to Canton.

He was not at all diffident in speaking of his visit, and said he had a very pleasant conversation with the President-elect on various topics, mostly, however, in regard to the election.

In reference to himself and his promise in the conversation, he said he did not care to talk at length, but gave out for publication the following statement in reference to the report that he was offered a cabinet position:

Bangor and Boston Steamer Breaks Shaft at Sea.

PICKED UP BY PORTLAND AND TOWED INTO PORT.

Shaft Broken Near Nahant—Boat Anchored and Signals of Distress Made—Company Likely to Charter a New Boat.

Boston, January 17.—The steamer Lewiston of the Boston and Bangor line was towed back to this city today with a broken shaft. Captain Ingraham stated that he left Foster's wharf at four Saturday afternoon for Winterport. Shortly after five, off Egg rock, Nahant, the starboard shaft broke in the inner journal, making half an inch crack.

The crew after some difficulty lashed the shaft to the upper bulkhead of the paddle box, to lessen the danger of losing it. The steamer anchored, and commenced firing rockets for assistance. There was no alarm among the few passengers on board.

The steamer Portland saw the signals and went to the assistance of the Lewiston. A hawser was passed on board the Portland and she towed the disabled steamer to quarantine, where it lay at safe anchorage until 8 a. m. today when the tug Harry Russell came down from the city and towed the steamer to the wharf.

The Penobscot is undergoing extensive overhauling to its machinery so it is likely the company will charter another boat, as the new steamer City of Bangor is said to be too expensive for winter service.

Perry S. Heath Selected by Mr. McKinley for Private Secretary.

Washington, January 16.—It is positively stated upon the authority of private advice from Canton, that President-elect McKinley has settled upon Perry S. Heath for private secretary. As James Boyle, who has been Mr. McKinley's secretary ever since the latter was inaugurated Governor of Ohio in January, 1893, is desirous to go abroad, he, it is said, leaves the field and Mr. Heath, remaining in the country, will be the one to bear the honors. Mr. Boyle will probably be sent to Bradford as consul to succeed Claud Meeker, whose death is just announced. Mr. Heath was for several years connected with the Washington bureau of the United Associated Press.

Visitors at Canton.

Canton, Ohio, January 16.—Mr. McKinley had an extraordinary day of it today and his library was never free from guests of greater or less importance. The most important callers were Judge Joseph McKenna of San Francisco, prominently mentioned for Secretary of the Interior, Senators M. S. Quay and Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania, and ex-Congressman H. L. Morey of Cincinnati, who arrived tonight. The two Pennsylvanians reached Canton shortly before noon and were met at the station by one of McKinley's secretaries. They were cordially greeted by Mr. McKinley with whom they remained in conference for over an hour. Neither Mr. Quay or Mr. McKinley cared to talk on the subject of the meeting. Senator Quay denied to the United Presses reporter that there was any discussion of Charles Emory Smith's cabinet boom. Mr. Penrose said they had presented the name of Gov. Hastings for a cabinet position and while no specific place has been named, he would make an excellent Secretary of War.

Rhode Island Will Send the Oldest Company to the Inauguration.

Washington, January 16.—Adjutant General Sackett of Rhode Island has notified Gen. Horace Porter, grand marshal of the inaugural parade of President-elect McKinley, that the military organizations from that state which will participate in the parade will be the Newport Artillery, an independent company, chartered in 1741, and the oldest military organization in the United States and the second division of the naval militia. Every indication points to a wider representation of the state organizations in the parade than on previous occasions where the whole militia of some particular state has "hogged" most of the parade.

Sherman Has Given Nothing Away.

Washington, January 17.—Senator Sherman said that he had not said anything that could be construed into what the policy of the coming administration would be in regard to Cuba.

Fire at Wells Depot.

The Oregon Senatorial Middle.

Salem, Oregon, January 11.—Twenty-three members of the lower house of the Oregon legislature held a meeting in the capitol today for the purpose of attempting to effect an organization. They adjourned without accomplishing anything save a compliance with the state constitution. The members who favor the immediate organization held a caucus to-night and decided to make no concession to the filibuster. There is no prospect of organization tomorrow and consequently no vote for United States Senator can be taken before February 1. Senator Mitchell is now the only candidate on the ground.

Work of Train Wreckers.

Dallas, Texas, January 17.—The through express from St. Louis on the Iron Mountain and Texas and Pacific route was wrecked last night at Forest, Cass county. Engineer Clemens sustained injuries so severe that he died today. The express messenger was reported fatally injured. The wreck was the work of train wreckers who piled cross ties on the track. Half a dozen or more passengers are reported injured, but none fatally. The engine and three cars were thrown down an embankment. No passenger coaches were left on the track.

A REVOLVING STORY.

A Springfield Pole Kills His Stepdaughter and Attempts Suicide.

Springfield, Mass., January 17.—On Sharon street, early this morning Dominick Kratafosti, an Austrian Pole, shot his stepdaughter twice, killing her almost instantly and then turning the revolver against himself put a bullet in his brain. He tried twice to shoot himself, but only one of the bullets took effect. He is lying at a hospital with the prospects against his recovery.

The people concerned in the crime are of the worst element of the population and an investigation into the affairs of the family brings to light a peculiarly vicious case of things. It seems that Kratafosti has been criminally intimate with his stepdaughter for nearly a year. Whenever he is drunk, which has been quite often, he tried to assault her, and she has often complained to the police. About a year ago the police were called to the house to afford her protection against her stepfather.

This morning Kratafosti tried to assault her again, with one or two people in the room. She resisted, and in a fit of rage, he shot her. He had threatened to do this on a similar occasion and seems to have bought a revolver for the purpose. The first shot was fired while the girl was sitting upon a cot bed in the kitchen where she slept with her mother.

The wound was not fatal, and she started to run into one of the other rooms when the second shot took effect near the heart and killed her almost instantly. Kratafosti then retreated into his own bed room and fired two shots at himself, one of them entering the brain through the ear.

ROWED THROUGH STORMY SEAS.

A Strange Tale of the Sea Told in New York.

Quarantine, New York, January 16.—Steamer Edam which arrived this afternoon from Amsterdam reports that on January 5, in latitude 50.05, longitude 11.25, when about 14 miles WSW from the Fastnet light, at 4.30 p. m., she sighted a vessel flying signal of distress. The wind was blowing fresh from SSE with a heavy swell from WNW. The Edam bore down close to the vessel and launched the port life boat in charge of the chief officer and seven seamen. With much difficulty, the life boat succeeded in getting alongside the vessel which proved a German bark but her name could not be ascertained. The crew wished to abandon the vessel which was apparently leaking but insisted on taking their clothing and effects. The chief officer, considering this too dangerous owing to the increasing heavy sea, declined to risk the venture and after repeated offers to save the lives of the crew, they declined to leave the vessel and the life boat was compelled to return to the steamer. On getting alongside, the boat was struck by a heavy sea and badly damaged. Two of her crew were knocked overboard, but having on life preservers they were rescued. The boat was hoisted on board in a badly damaged condition. The steamer then stood off from the bark until 7 p. m., when the latter swung around her main yards and proceeded on her course about east by north, making no other signals.

Given Up As Lost.

Baltimore, January 16.—The Italian brig Anita which sailed from Paysandu, Brazil, August 15, for Baltimore, has been given up as lost. She had a cargo of 600 tons of bone and bone ash. Capt. DeRosa married a South American lady in Paysandu and was bringing her to Baltimore on a wedding trip.

Pope Expresses Satisfaction.

London, January 17.—The Rome correspondent of the Chronicle telegraphs that the Pope has expressed the utmost satisfaction upon hearing of the signing of the Anglo-American arbitration treaty. He said that he hoped that the papacy would be the permanent tribunal of arbitration for all nations, and was glad the principle of arbitration had been adopted by Great Britain and America.

Reports That Macco Lives.

Kingston, Jamaica, January 17.—Seven Cubans including Senior Sauvenell have arrived here bringing despatches from Cuba. In accordance with the quarantine regulations, they were detained for observation. Numerous reports continue to reach here that Macco is still alive. It is said that he was desperately wounded, but he is now improving.

California Highly Delighted.

San Francisco, January 11.—Mass meetings were held in nearly all the cities and towns of California yesterday in honor of the defeat of the Pacific railroad funding bill in the House of Representatives, the day having been set aside as a holiday. Fireworks were exploded from the house tops. At a mass meeting, presided over by the mayor, resolutions were adopted thanking the House for its action.

Made Famous By Seely Dinner.

New York, January 17.—Wm. S. Moore, the theatrical manager, who was the cause of Capt. Chapman raising the Seely dinner at Sherry's, by reporting that his stepdaughter Annabelle, a dancer, had been asked to dance in the "altogether," died here today of pneumonia. Moore was 53. He was at one time manager of the "Little Tycoon" opera company and acted as manager of one of H. J. Jacoby's theatres, and Harry Miner's Eighth avenue theatre.

POWERS CANNOT AGREE.

Settlement of Eastern Question Hard To Reach.

PLAN FOR REFORM READY TO BE SUBMITTED.

But Question of Coercion an Open One—Germany Opposed to Force—Russia Not Unwilling to Agree But Wants Time.

Berlin, January 17.—Under instructions from the foreign office Baron Saurma von Jeltsch, the German ambassador to the Porte has given persistent support to M. Nelidoff the Russian ambassador throughout the series of ambassadorial conferences in Constantinople, which are to now terminate. In the discussion of the financial and administrative reforms proposed by M. Nelidoff, Baron Saurma has taken no prominent part.

M. Cambon and Sir Phillip Currie, respectively French and English ambassadors, are understood to have obtained some important amendments to the Russian proposals, which have now received the assent of the European governments. The English and Italian ambassadors advocated a distinct plan of armed enforcement of the decisions of the Powers and argued that the presentation of the reform projects to the Sultan, should be accompanied by an explicit declaration that the Powers were prepared to enforce them by sea and land.

The report is entirely credited in official and diplomatic quarters here that Sir Phillip Currie will place before the ambassador a fully matured project of naval and military operations, designed to cover the occupation of Constantinople the Dardanelles and Bosphorus and to overawe the Moslem population in the all too probable event of a rising and attempted massacre.

To any consideration of coercion the Baron took a decided stand in opposition. The Kaiser obviously continues to hold that the Sultan must be trusted to carry out the reforms and his sovereign rights should not be interfered with. M. Nelidoff professed no unwillingness to agree to the principle of coercion, but opposed the Russian proposals on the ground that they were premature, and that the Sultan must have time to act. On this point of time communications are passing between the Powers.

Germany Frightened by Russian Appointment.

Berlin, January 17.—The report of the appointment of Count Muraviev, who is known to be an ardent friend of France, and a pronounced Germanophile to the post of Russian ambassador to London, has made the subject of an unworthy and very undignified discussion in the German press, which were obviously under the influence of a scare. The scare is subsiding, as the announcement of Count Muraviev's appointment in the St. Petersburg official messenger discloses the fact that he has merely been appointed "German" of the foreign office.

MANITOBA SCHOOLS.

The Settlement Roundly Denounced by a Canadian Bishop.

Quebec, January 16.—Bishop Begin, coadjutor to Cardinal Taschereau, has issued a mandement condemning the Manitoba schools settlement which will be read in the Catholic churches tomorrow. The condemnation is direct and in unmistakable terms. "No bishop approves of the present settlement," he says, "and no bishop will ever approve of it." In the letter, which is quite long, Bishop Begin says another mandement will follow the present one.

Steamers Unable to Enter Newfoundland Harbors.

St. Johns, N. F., January 16.—The whole east coast of Newfoundland is blocked with ice. An Arctic floe is now visible off the harbor and will probably prevent the Allan liner Carthaginian from Liverpool and the steamer Portia from New York effecting an entrance. The mail steamer Virginia is frozen in at a northern point. All shipping traffic is suspended. The steamer Russian Prince signalled Cape Race yesterday reporting an ice floe 180 miles off the coast.

The Miners' Association.

Columbus, Ohio, January 16.—The National Miners' convention today elected Michael Ratsford of Massillon, Ohio, president of the organization. John Kane, editor of the Mine Workers' Journal, was selected vice-president, and W. C. Pearce was re-elected secretary and treasurer without opposition. The scale of wages was completed and February, 1897, fixed as the date for it to take effect. The part of the scale added to day fixes a 9 cent differential in the Massillon and Jackson thin vein coal mines over the Hoeking valley rates and advances the wages of all nine employees paid by the day in the same proportion as the wages of those paid by the ton.

Young Skaters Who Found "Making Benders" Deadly Sport.

Leominster, Mass., January 16.—This afternoon while eight or nine children were making "benders" on this ice in the Nashua river, at North Leominster, one of them broke through and the others went to the rescue. The ice gave way, and all were thrown into the water. Johnnie Connaughton, aged 10, Annie Rouse, aged 16, and Gertrude Crowley, aged 9, were drowned. The others were rescued with difficulty. The bodies of the two first named were recovered but the other has not been. The victims were children of working people.

THE SENATE SCORED.

Ministers Urge the Ratification of the Anglo-American Treaty.

New York, January 17.—Rev. Dr. Newton in All Souls church today delivered a sermon on the proposed arbitration treaty between this country and Great Britain. He said that it was one of the greatest events of the closing century and the greatest blessing ever given humanity. It would make England and the United States the arbiters of the peace of the world. Other European nations would before long apply for admission to the alliance and step by step the disarmament of Europe would follow. War would be a thing of the past and all differences between nations would be settled by arbitration.

Dr. Newton said that there was a sudden arrest in the ratification of this treaty to humanity through petty jealousies, ignoble partisanship, and mean and skulking motives on the part of Senators at Washington. This was a deep and damning shame to our nation. "I call upon you men of influence," he said, "to use every means in your power to bring the pressure of public opinion upon our hesitating Senate to shame that ignoble treatment of such a magnificent opportunity."

Rev. Madison Peters at the Bloomingdale Reformed church in a prelude to his sermon, said: "The arbitration treaty between England and America is the most magnificent triumph of human progress, the crowning glory of the 19th century."

Talmage on Arbitration Treaty.

Washington, January 17.—Dr. T. D. W. Talmage in his sermon this morning referred to the pending arbitration treaty with Great Britain, characterizing it as the mightiest and grandest movement of driving brutal war off the earth. He said the men who on either side of the sea did the most to effect that plan of arbitration made themselves immortal. The eve of the present administration of the United States government had been honored with the gladdest event of eighteen centuries. All civilized nations would copy the sublime example. He implored the Senate to promptly ratify the treaty. Mr. Cleveland was not present at the service.

Divine Evolution.

London, January 17.—In the course of his remarks at the city temple today, Dr. Joseph Parker referred to the arbitration treaty recently signed by Great Britain and the United States, saying the second advent bore every aspect of divine evolution. The occasion he added was too grand to be celebrated by official dinners and holiday making that should be marked by religious services.

Hanna Announces His Candidacy.

Cleveland, O., January 16.—The Press this afternoon says: "M. A. Hanna is an avowed candidate for the United States Senatorship. He announced his candidacy this morning for the first time, after a long conference with ex-Congressman H. L. Morey of Hamilton, Ohio, who came to Cleveland in the capacity of Mr. Foraker's representative."

Wounded in a Riot.

Fort Valley, Ga., Jan. 17.—Fort Valley was thrown into a fever of excitement yesterday when a message was received from Byron, Ga., asking for assistance as there was an riot in progress and unless assistance was gotten a good many people would be killed.

Among the wounded were C. C. Richardson, Clabe Bateman and Chas. Bateman. The row started with above men and was joined in by others. Sheriff Cooper went to the scene and the latest advices last night were that all was quiet.

Peace Restored in Byron.

Atlanta, Ga., January 11.—Peace is restored at Byron. The trouble was a row resulting from a third tie between Candidates C. C. Richardson and C. L. Bateman. O

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Gilhooley Abroad.

Saturday night the Germans gave their farce comedy "The Gilhooley Abroad," to a good audience at Portland Theatre. Our theatre goers are familiar with the place as it has been seen here several times. The Germans have added some new songs and dances, have engaged a very good set of people and the audience evidently enjoyed the performance.

Lord Chumley.

Tickets are on sale at Stockbridge's for the next entertainment in the St. Lawrence street Ladies course, to be given at City Hall Wednesday evening. The great humorist, Lord Powers, Mr. Powers will assume all the characters some ten in number in the comedy of "Lord Chumley." The Tropika Capital, says: "Mr. Powers was a surprise to all. To say that the audience was both charmed and delighted is but faint praise."

Bennett & Moulton Comedy Co.

For two whole weeks, with a matinee every day except Monday, the famous Bennett and Moulton Comedy Company will hold the boards at Portland Theatre and at popular prices, with special matinees daily, will produce a repertoire comprising some of the latest popular dramas.

Tomorrow evening "All the Comforts of Home," produced by permission of William Gillette, the author of "Too Much Johnson," "Held by the Enemy," and many other popular successes, will be the attraction, and it will be produced with every attention to the most minute details. Speaking of this excellent company the Gloucester Times says in a recent edition:

"The Bennett-Moulton Comedy Company made a decidedly favorable impression at its first performance last evening. 'The Struggle for Life' was presented to the largest audience of the season while standing room was at a premium, and a better pleased audience has not left the City Hall this season. If any had gone in with the idea that a low priced performance meant one of low grade they were much mistaken."

"The price of admission is the only thing that is cheap about the company. The plays are acted and mounted in much better shape than most of the high price attractions. They carry some very beautiful scenery, and in each play it is used in such a manner as to make the performance all the more realistic."

Pictures of the Rebellion.

The last presentation of the series of the Living Pictures of the War of the Rebellion was given Saturday evening at City Hall, under the auspices of Bowdoin Post, No. 2, G. A. R.

Several of the characters received hearty applause for the manner in which they executed their parts.

Miss Ida Houston gave a very acceptable reading, and Master George Shepherd Beal captivated the audience by his masterly effort in the drum solos.

The awkward squad also proved a pleasing feature and received a round of applause. Capt. C. S. Berry, in command of the squad, was presented with a handsome bouquet at the close of the scene in which the squad performed their service.

The post have labored hard to make the entertainments a success, and should be rewarded by a good amount of money.

Rescue Club.

At the Bowdoin Club recital Thursday morning Miss Twigg, of Deering, was heard for the first time. Miss Twigg is said to have a rich soprano voice, which was enjoyed by the large audience. The Schubert recital will be given at four o'clock Thursday afternoon, Jan. 28th.

Palmer Shoe Company.

On the eighth page of this issue will be found the announcement of the Palmer Shoe company, relating to their annual sale of men's shoes. This concern has within a few years adopted the plan of clearing their large stock of old sizes and broken lines by an unusually low price in one year. The last time this included a great variety of goods, perfect in every way and suitable for immediate or future wear. The great success of these sales indicates the genuineness of the discount. Hundreds of people last year secured bargains which made permanent friends and customers for the Palmer Shoe Co. The sale commences tomorrow continuing for two weeks.

Wind Shattered a Window.

About ten o'clock last night the few people along Exchange street and as far up as the corner of Middle street were startled by the crashing of glass and a noise resembling an explosion. On investigation it was discovered that a window in Leavitt's saloon over the office of Clarence Hale had been shattered and fallen to the sidewalk. The matter was reported to the police as the people who gathered about the spot were afraid all was not right in Leavitt's shop. The door was forced open and a police officer went through the building. He found everything all right and the shattered window was attributed to the wind.

PEACE ON EARTH.

Dr. Parsons' Sermon Preached Yesterday on the Arbitration Treaty.

Rev. Dr. Parsons preached yesterday in Chestnut Street church to a large congregation on the subject of peace, with special reference to the arbitration treaty signed last week.

The text was taken from St. Luke 2, 14—"Peace on Earth." Dr. Parsons prefaced it by saying that the treaty of amity and good-will between England and America is a most suggestive and impressive spectacle, with results far-reaching, not only to the nations interested and all the world, but especially to the interests of the Church of Christ. Jesus was the Prince of Peace, and His kingdom on earth will be a kingdom of peace. And this treaty is most significant as pointing to that consummation.

War is the scourge of the world. "War is murder," said Gen. Sherman, "and you cannot soften or refine it." In the war between the states five hundred thousand men were killed in battle or died from wounds or diseases in the hospitals. And the physical wrecks of that great struggle still go haunting along our streets. And this is not all the dreadful story—that will never be known until the books of God are opened. The time is to come when men will learn war no more and recent events prove that that time is fast hurrying on. A week ago one million armed men, steel battle ships, mighty guns, strange and infernal death dealing weapons, united in the testimony that the day was not near. But a week's time and a single act of international friendliness has discounted all this. Should the other great nations follow this good example these one million men might be returned to the industrial pursuits of life, battleships go to commission, great guns be dismantled, and the glad day so long ago heralded by angels jubilee would be ushered in. A glad day indeed when every gun is thrown down, and

"When every sound from its rusty throat, 'Is a wren's or a blue-bird's note.'"

This treaty gives hope for universal peace because it is an alliance of the two most powerful nations on earth. England is very great, and it is with no spirit of boasting that I say that the United States is destined to be greater. We have the territory, and in time will have an equal population. Mr. Gladstone says that should the United States maintain her present ratio of increase, in the year two thousand she will have a population of eight hundred million souls. The United States on the side of peace, and she will count as much as all of Europe. This alliance means also the perpetual supremacy of the English speaking people and of the English speaking civilization. The English language is the triumphant language of the day.

The American is a composite man. Were you to get a composite photograph of him you would need many men to sit for the picture. The Englishman with his sturdy manhood. The German with his industry and love of home. The Frenchman with his vivacity. The Scandinavian with his metaphysics. And the Indian with his proud stolidity. And back of all and as a basis of all, the Yankee with his shrewdness and the cavalier with his pride. All these elements and physiognomies must enter into the composite photograph of the representative American.

The Arbitration Treaty also proves that the rivalries and jealousies of the mother and daughter countries are soon to be things of the past. This has not always been so. When the colonies won their independence from the British crown, that crown lost its brightest jewels. Many years passed before English statesmen gave up the hope of winning the American States back to their allegiance. The tier of eighteen hundred and twelve was little more than a second war for independence. And then in the war of the rebellion, the sympathies of the aristocratic elements of England were doubtless with the slave power. But the great heart of the common people was with the North, and England's queen, God bless her, was always in full sympathy with the great republic in the supreme hour of her peril. When Lincoln was laid low, Queen Victoria sent her tender letter of condolence. And when Garfield awaited burial, the most conspicuous wreath on his bier was sent by England's queen and the most touching despatch of all was the message from England's widow queen to America's queenly widow. And what more fitting celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of Victoria's coronation than a day of jubilee on both sides of the sea, in commemoration of the ratification of a treaty of amity between the two great peoples. Surely for every reason there ought to be peace between us.

Commercially we are absolutely necessary to each other. England is our great market, we send them five hundred million dollars worth of our products in a year. While to Germany our next best customer we only send seventy million dollars worth. England and America are the two great practical nations of the world. France may contribute some literature and Germany valuable scholarship; but the locomotives and steamships, the telephones and telegraphs, the sewing machines and mowing machines come from England and America. War is a disturber and destroyer. So for utilitarian reasons there ought to be perpetual peace between us.

England has been to America what a mother is to the child. She gave us our language, our law, and modes of legal procedure. She gave us literature, and highest and best of all we inherit from her our religion, and we retain that legacy. The faith of eighteen hundred and ninety-seven was the faith of fifteen hundred and twenty. What sort of a religious civilization would we have had if the Puritans and Pilgrims had stayed away? Whatever the United States of America is today, morally and religiously, whatever restraints she possesses, and humanities and blessings she enjoys, she owes them all to the Puritan, who came from England with his Bible in his pocket, and his faith in his heart to make him a home in the western world. The Englishman coming to our shores easily becomes Americanized. We hear of German Americans and Irish-Americans and Italian-Americans, but we never hear of English-Americans. Politicians are very much interested in the Irish vote and the German vote, but no one ever hears of the English vote as figuring in our elections, local or national.

We are very nearly one. How fitting then that the first arbitration treaty in the world should be between us. Our origin is one, and please God our destiny will be one. England's illustrious names belong to us as well, and Whittier's song is

"Oh Englishmen, in hope and creed, In blood and tongue our brothers; 'We too are heirs of Bunyons' deed, 'And Shakespeare's fame, and Cromwell's deed, 'Are not alone our Mother's."

A glad day it is, and cause for rejoicing and ten thousand anthems of jubilee it will be when the "Royal Cross of St. George," and the "Stars and Stripes"—storm-tossed and shot-riddled on a thousand bloody battle fields are twined together in a chaplet of peace and mingling their folds, shall float over a regenerated world, that shall learn war no more.

DEERING.

Amendments to City Charter and Annexation Discussed.

Deering has got to be a city of meetings. It is a pretty rare evening nowadays when the seeker after excitement cannot find some sort of body in session where oratory wings its flight until a late hour. With the Board of Aldermen, Board of Trade, Board of Managers, "Committee of Twenty-one," and others, and with the fertile subjects of annexation and new city charter, the citizens of Deering may fairly be said to be in a fever of discussion.

Saturday night the Board of Trade had its turn again, and with them met the Committee of Twenty-one, or part of them, and the citizens were invited to meet with them too. There was a fair attendance.

President John E. Sawyer presided and called upon Scott Wilson, Esq., who presented the report of the committee of Twenty-one, providing for amendments to the city charter, creating a board of public works, and the question was then open for discussion. The recommendations of the committee have been printed in full in the daily papers.

Irish S. Locke, Esq., was the first speaker. He mentioned the growth of the city, its divided settlements and its rapidly increasing needs, and said that methods which are successful in larger cities should prove so here. The advantage of taking the affairs of the street department out of politics is evident to all and will result in a more judicious expenditure of the city funds. He also thought that it would prevent any possible jealousy between various sections of the city. In conclusion he expressed himself heartily in favor of the proposed board of public works.

Mr. L. B. Chapman was called upon but failed to respond.

Mr. Merritt B. Coullage favored the board as being more likely to do work of a permanent nature which would be a great benefit to the city.

Judge I. L. Elder was next called upon, and said that he had been too busy to give the matter much attention, but that in all matters of a public nature he wants to subserve the welfare of the city. Judge Elder alluded to the strong contrast between the last year under the old town, and the new city government and the wonderful manner in which since that time the affairs of the city have assumed shape, and claimed they were now conducted on strict business principles, and that the standing of the city is fully 40 per cent better than when a town.

He said the single board of government was a prominent factor in this progress. Continuing, he spoke of the present manner of directing the street work by the street committee of three in number as being very satisfactory and better than the proposed plan. This plan of having only one of the proposed commissioners go out of office each year might be a good one, but there is a chance for jealousy and conflict even in the board.

He was proud of the honesty of all of the city officials in the execution of their duties, and in the affairs of the street department as well managed as any, therefore, he did not favor the proposed change.

Ex-Mayor William W. Merrill was a member of the committee which had the matter in charge, and upon being called upon said that he wished to hear the views of the others.

Dr. Charles W. Foster did not believe that the board would eliminate politics, and he would like to see a board of a larger number elected by the people and would rather see the people have more time to consider the matter which is a very important question.

Messrs. F. H. Thompson, E. C. O'Brien and T. M. Johnston spoke briefly and then Mr. S. G. Harris took the floor and in a most earnest speech advocated the reform urged by the committee. It was, he claimed, in the line of progress and the only true business like way for a municipality to conduct its affairs.

Mr. Frank True favored the new plan on the ground that it would secure continuity in the work on the public streets.

This brought Mr. Edward F. Fassett to his feet to defend the plan "fud" or not. If it was declared it was a good fad. It had been tried with great success in a city in which he had lived and seen its practical workings, and in that city of upwards of 145,000 people he did not believe that anybody had cared, he found, who would be willing to go back to the old methods. Some "fads" were righteous and excellent for the community and this was one.

Mr. A. W. Pierce favored the scheme, as did Mr. E. F. Hanson and Mr. Wilson.

Several other gentlemen spoke briefly and then the meeting endorsed the plan as proposed by the committee by a practical unanimous vote.

It was then the annexationists turn. Fortunately for the gentlemen who wanted to get a little sleep before the Sabbath was ushered in, there did not seem to be one dissent among the citizens present, so the anti-annexation resolutions were adopted without debate—an unusual thing for Deering in these days.

Mr. Frank R. Reddon of Oakdale took a party of about twenty-five people to Riverton Saturday evening in the parlor car Bramhall.

Mr. Albert Dingley, the Forest avenue grocer and well known checker player, began a series of twenty games for the championship of the state Saturday evening with Mr. E. C. Chapman of Stroudwater.

Several petitions asking for the repeal of the state law which prohibits new electric light companies from entering this city, are being circulated.

Friday the new houses on the corner of East and Alba streets, Central avenue and East street and at No. 44 Alba street, were sold to a Portland real estate dealer for $6500 by Mr. Charles B. Dalton, which is one of the largest sales to

MAINE MINISTERS.

They Will Discuss Next Month "The Gist of the New Theology."

The Maine Ministers' Associates, which held its last meeting in Auburn last September and brought to that community the famous Biblical student, Prof. C. A. Briggs, D. D., of Union Theological Seminary, New York city, will hold its next meeting in the same place, the High Street Congregational church, Auburn, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, February 17.

Three meetings are held each year, one in the fall, one in the winter and one in the spring. This will be the regular meeting. The membership of the association is composed of men from about every denomination in the state. All ministers, who are willing to come together in a spirit of charity and forbearance to discuss the great problems of religion without bitterness or strife are eligible to membership. It is the policy of the association to have the majority of the executive committee in one place and to hold all the meetings of the year in that vicinity.

The officers for the present year are: President, Prof. A. W. Anthony, Free Baptist, Lewiston, vice president, Rev. J. C. Perkins, Unitarian, Portland, secretary-treasurer, Rev. R. W. Platts, Episcopalian, Gardiner, members of the executive committee, Rev. E. S. Stockpole, Dr. Methodist, Rev. C. S. Patton, Congregationalist, and Rev. H. R. Rose, Universalist, all of Auburn.

The general subject of the next meeting in February will be "The Gist of the New Theology." The aim will be to let the new theology speak for itself through brief, ten-minute reviews, which will be given of nine books, representing the new theology. The books reviewed will embrace Caird's "Evolution of Religion," White's "The Warfare of Science with Religion in Christendom," Cornhill's "Prophecy," Gordon's "The Christ of Today," Harris's "Moral Evolution," Donald's "Expansion of Religion," Horton's "Revelation and the Bible," Landay's "Inspiration," and Palmer's "Religious Definition." The reviewers of these books will be Revs. Dr. Blanchard, Dr. Jenkins, W. M. Kimmell, and E. J. Prescott of Portland, and C. A. Towne and H. Sawyer of Auburn. Prof. D. D. Briggs, D. D., of Union Theological Seminary, New York city, will be the guest of honor.

The evening address will be given by Rev. George W. Field, D. D., of Bangor, upon methods of teaching the Old Testament. The exact time of Dr. Field's lecture will be announced later. Dr. Field is one of our ablest preachers in the state, and a rich treat is in store.

One of the pleasantest features of the September meeting was the supper, served in the vestry of the Kim street Universalist church, with the after-supper speeches. That happy feature will be repeated in February. Already the ministers of the state are manifesting much interest in the meeting and are planning to attend. Special rates will be given by the railroads.

Legislators to Visit Deaf School.

The committee on education from the Maine legislature will visit the Portland School for the Deaf tomorrow. They will leave Augusta on the early morning train and arrive here at 8.35 a. m. They will spend the forenoon at the deaf school and leave at 1.15 p. m. for Farmington, where they will pay a visit to the Farmington Normal school. The members of the committee are Senators Walls of Knox, Clason of Kennebec and Roberts of Oxford; Representatives Burns of Westbrook, Blanchard of Wilton, Sewall of Bath, Pattangall of Machias, Gilman of Houlton and Levan-saler of Thomaston.

One thing is certain: It will not do to fool with a bad cold. No one can tell what the end will be. Pneumonia, catarrh, chronic bronchitis, if not consumption, invariably result from a neglected cold. It is surprising too, that bad colds are so often neglected when one remembers how easily and at what little expense they may be cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is always prompt and effective, and costs but a trifle; 25 or 50 cents is a trifle as compared with the disastrous effects of a neglected cold. Mr. Abner Mercur of Dilworthton, Chester County, Pa., in speaking of this remedy, said: "Some time ago I had a bad cold and cough. I tried almost everything. Finally Mr. Hunt, the druggist, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and one 50 cent bottle of it cured me entirely." For sale by H. P. S. Gould, 577 Congress St., under Congress Square Hotel, and L. S. Raymond, Cumberland Mills.

CRUSHED BY A JIGGER.

Little Lawrence Dresser Dies from His Injuries.

Lawrence E. Dresser, 7 years old, the son of Charles P. Dresser of 64 Cedar street, died at 7 o'clock Saturday morning as the result of injuries received Friday afternoon by being run over by a heavy jigger on Elm street.

Mr. Dresser is a brakeman on the Portland & Rochester and lived, with his wife, and son Lawrence E., aged 7, and other children, in the last house on Cedar street, before reaching the Rochester track.

The little fellow was a pupil in Miss Coleworth's room in the Chestnut street school.

After school was dismissed last Monday noon, Lawrence and a companion younger than himself, went over Chestnut street to Cumberland and along that street past Cedar to Elm, instead of down Cedar to his home. The reason why they did this, presumably, was on account of their getting a ride on a jigger that was going over Cumberland street.

Near the corner of Elm street, young Dresser attempted to jump off the moving jigger and fell under one of the rear wheels which passed over him.

A Mr. Downey who was passing, heard the boy's screams of pain, and running into the street, picked the poor little fellow up in his arms and carried him into the office of Dr. Fessenden on the corner, where he was made as comfortable as possible. It was found that the wheel had passed directly over the stomach inflicting terrible internal injuries.

The little sufferer was removed to his home and Dr. Way, the family physician, was called and later there was a consultation with three physicians. The wounded boy was beyond mortal aid and he lingered until about 7 Saturday morning when he died.

The little fellow was able to give but a brief description of the horses attached to the jigger, but not enough to trace it. The driver did not leave his seat, but drove away.

The boy was a bright and manly little fellow, was a good scholar, and beloved by his teacher and playmates. Mr. Dresser, who is an industrious and popular employe of the Rochester road, merits the sympathy of the community in the hour of his and his wife's deep affliction.

Portland Typographical Relief Society.

The annual meeting of the above named society was held at the Argus office Saturday afternoon at 5.15 and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Lewis M. Pearson.
Vice President—Fred L. Saunders.
Recording Secretary—E. H. Brown.
Financial Secretary—Fred O. Turner.
Treasurer—George E. Kenworthy, Jr.
Executive Committee—Thomas J. McKel, Edward F. Somers, Daniel Hamblin.

The treasurer reported the society to be in a very prosperous condition, a good gain being made last year over the one preceding. Several new members were admitted during the year, and quite a sum of money was paid out in sick benefits.

A Good Example.

Mr. John P. Buckley, the once famous oarsman, is the first milkman about Portland to have had his cows tested and receive the "Health Certificate" of cattle commissioners. This is the form of the certificate:

This Certificate is given, after a careful inspection of Mr. Buckley's cows by the State Cattle Commissioners, as an assurance that said cattle are in a healthy condition.

None given unless signed by one of the Commissioners.

Burglars Found the Safe Open.

There was an attempt at burglary at the office of J. L. Watson, the Forest avenue coal and wood dealer, Friday evening. The burglars got into the boiler room through a window and then broke open the back door into the office with a "jimmy." Mr. Watson always takes one or two keys in his safe, and he avoided having his safe smashed by the burglars on the outside of it. The burglars were evidently after large game and, finding that the safe was open to them, they left without disturbing anything.

The Death Rate.

There were fourteen deaths in Portland in the week which ended Saturday noon. The deaths were due to accident, convulsions, cystic bronchitis, emphysema (2), diarrhoea, diphtheria (4), phthisis (2), periperal embolism, and senility.

Maine State Pomological Society.

The annual winter meeting of the State Pomological Society will be held in Town Hall, Winthrop, Thursday and Friday, February 18 and 19. The programme now being arranged will be announced later. It will consist of papers, addresses and discussions by prominent fruit growers and others. Tickets will be sold at all stations of M. C. R. for one fare the round trip. There will be a fruit exhibition during the meeting for which a premium list has been issued. All fruit growers in Maine are invited to contribute fruit for the exhibition. HARBOR NOTES.

The schooner Robert I. Carter was hauled off the mud at the Cape at ten o'clock yesterday morning by the tugs Belknap and Demerest and towed over to the end of Union wharf. A diver will try and get a look at her bottom and see what repairs should be made. He could not get a chance to do this at the Cape there being so much water in the vessel.

Steamer Portland arrived from Boston at 7.30 a. m. yesterday.

The Numidian of the Allan line left Halifax yesterday and will probably be in this morning unless detained by the strong head wind.

The big four master Albia B. Crosby arrived yesterday with coal from Norfolk for Yarmouth, and the four master, C. A. Campbell arrived from Philadelphia with coal for the Maine Central.

The three masted schooner City of Augusta, is a fast craft, and she generally makes quick passages, but yesterday she arrived after a long struggle with head winds, taking eighteen days to get here from Baltimore loaded with coal for Randall & McAllister.

The fisherman Sylvia M. Nuani came in with 12,000 fish.

The British brig Clyde is in the harbor light, bound to western ports from Salem, Mass.

The U. S. R. S. Woodbury, Captain Hall, arrived from a cruise Saturday afternoon.

A small fleet of coasters arrived in the harbor yesterday and will probably remain until the wind is favorable.

The coaster John M. Fiske, came in with double reefed mainsail yesterday afternoon showing how stiff the breeze was outside.

The steamer Hermann Reising brought in 4000 lobsters to Trefethen yesterday afternoon. The captain said it was getting pretty hubbly beyond Portland Head light.

A number of trains loaded with stock for the steamer came in to the Grand Trunk yesterday and the cattle were sent to the stock yards.

Work on the new elevator proceeded merrily yesterday.

The chilly wind and rain had a material effect on the number of visitors to the steamers yesterday.

The steamer Hibernian has hauled over to the elevator and is taking on grain.

The steamer Etolia has hauled over to No. 3 shed and is loading package freight.

The schooner Charles P. Notman has nearly finished discharging coal at Randall & McAllister's wharf. She will ship another cargo and go to Norfolk for a cargo of coal.

The schooner O. D. Witherell, which has been laid up at Sturdevant's wharf, has been chartered to carry a cargo of barrels from the Portland Cooperage company to Glen Cove, N. Y.

The schooner C. J. Willard, which has been hauled up at Long wharf for some time, has been chartered to carry coopers to Porto Rico. She will bring back a load of molasses. The vessel came out of the dry dock Saturday morning and was towed to Central wharf where she will load.

The schooner S. P. Blackburn is on her way to this port from Norfolk with a cargo of coal.

The barkentine Jessie Macgregor, Capt. Norwood, arrived at Buenos Ayres, January 14.

The schooner Julia A. Warr, which recently arrived at Fall River from Fernandina, made the trip from port to port in seven days. The record has never been equalled.

The schooner Vanguard brought in a fare of 10,000 fish Saturday. She was the only fish arrival for the day.

Boston and Maine Freight Train Wrecked.

Durham, N. H., January 16.—The night freight on the Western Division of the Boston & Maine railroad, due in Boston at 5 o'clock a. m., was wrecked at a point about two miles from the station here, on its way westward, at about 1 o'clock this morning. Nine cars were derailed and partially demolished, and the track was torn up for a considerable distance, but no one was injured. Wreckers arrived promptly from Lawrence and the track was cleared shortly after daylight.

The cause of the accident is not known positively, but it is thought that a broken car was responsible.

The cars were loaded with miscellaneous merchandise, some of which were considerably damaged by the collision. The loss, it is estimated, will be several thousand dollars.

"I was troubled with that dreadful disease called dropsy; swollen from head to foot. Burdock's Blood Bitters has completely cured me. It is a most wonderful medicine." Joseph Herick, Linwood, Ont.

CLEAVES RIFLES.

Company M., of Westbrook, 1st Regt M. S. N. G.

How It Came Into Being—Sketch of Its Officers—Full Roster of the Company.

Westbrook people are crowding over the fine new military company just started on its martial career in the lively little manufacturing city which takes its place with this beginning of the new year as Company M., First Regiment, National Guard of the State of Maine and certainly they have occasion to, for in the physique and culture of its personnel it is certainly what one of the most distinguished military men of Maine said of it, "One of the finest bodies of young men which formed a company in the National Guard of the Pine Tree State. This, too, in a state as famous for its gallant soldiers in the past, as for its giant statesmen."

It seems peculiarly fitting that this company whose home is so near Portland, which takes its place among the state's defenders, should bear the name of the distinguished commander-in-chief who has just retired from command.

A Large Uniting in London in Aid of the Famine Sufferers.

London, January 16.—A large meeting was held at the Mansion House today for the purpose of furthering the work of aiding the sufferers by famine in India.

Lord Mayor George Pauley Phillips presided. Among those present were Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of Connaught and George N. Curzon, under secretary for foreign affairs.

A resolution declaring it to be a public duty to promote the work of extending the measures for relief was offered by the Duke of Connaught, whereupon an attempt was made by the socialist leader Hyndman to move an amendment depriving the measures of relief for India in view of the distress in England. The Lord Mayor refused to listen to Hyndman, but he persisted in his attempt to move his amendment and he was put out of the hall amid cheers. The resolution of the Duke of Connaught was adopted.

THE JOHN ENGLIS ARRIVES.

She Beats the Record Between Portland and New York.

Time Twenty Hours and a Half—Almost as Good as Railroad Time—The Steamer Carries the Champion Flag.

There is no occasion now to go by rail to New York from Portland unless the traveller is in a tremendous hurry and runs the chance of making connections in Boston. The reason for all this lies in the fact that the new and elegant steamer of the Maine Steamship Co., the John Englis, arrived from New York yesterday afternoon at 1.40 o'clock.

The John Englis, with a good cargo aboard, and seven passengers, left her dock in New York about five o'clock Saturday evening, and she just made things hum, arriving here, as stated, at 1.40 p. m. Saturday, a run of twenty and a half hours. It must be borne in mind too, that this feat was accomplished by a new boat, on the second trip she has ever made. On these occasions the machinery is never pushed, neither is the work expected from the boilers that they are able to perform with longer use. The bearings of the machinery have to be worn down before they do their prettiest. The great ocean liners like the Campana and Majestic and St. Louis, never get their best records until some time after they have been in service.

Women's Council.

The Women's Council is busily engaged this winter in carrying on its various lines of work. At a meeting held last week a very interesting paper on women's work in the church was read by Mrs. Dr. Parsons, who also gave some account of the year's work of the Chestnut street Foreign Missionary society. As vacancies will occur on the school board this spring in four of the wards, committees were appointed from wards two, four, six and seven to arrange for having at the next municipal election the names of women placed as candidates on the ballots. Plans have also been arranged for an observance of Lincoln's birthday. As February 12th is not a legal holiday, Saturday the 18th, will be celebrated at City hall when the children will have an opportunity to hear about his life in an address by Rev. Dr. Blanchard, illustrated by stereoscopic views. On the last Saturday of this month the third, a business talk will be given by Col. F. N. Brown on "Money and Finance," to be followed in February by Mr. R. L. Whitehouse who will speak on the Property Rights of Women, and in March, by Judge Bonney, with a paper on the United States Senate. A letter received this week by the president of the local council from Mrs. Mary Low Dickinson, the president of the National Woman's Council, endorses highly the work done here in Portland, as will be seen from the following extract:

"In running over in my own mind your lines of work, it seems as if there is not one that could have been omitted, and not one that, if followed out to its ultimate good, would not prove a strong factor in the production of better conditions for human beings, whose highest welfare we are bound to seek. So far every effort has not only embodied motives that dignify life, but every effort has been practical and marked by common sense and earnest endeavor."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

18 MILES OF OUTING FLANNEL.

How much of an idea have you of the quantity of Outing Flannel we sell?

Take all the pieces of Outing we sold last year, unroll them and sew them together, and the combined piece would reach from our store up Congress St., to the Union Station and out along the Boston and Maine R.R. tracks past Scarborough, past Old Orchard, past Saco and Biddeford, and nearly to Kennebunk. To be exact, not quite eighteen miles.

Another mile and a half has just been added to our stock and before the end of '97 we hope to reach Portsmouth.

IT'S OUTINGS' INNINGS ON MONDAY.

We have some remnants for you at half price—our former stock was immense—this last new lot of fifty odd pieces adds to the wide range for selection. Take it altogether we hope to make Monday a record breaker in sales of Outing Flannel.

The remnants are 4 cts. per yd.

4c Regular 8c quality—all checks—medium and dark colors—1 e n g t h s from 2yds. to 5yds. 4c

Our regular stock is almost indescribable. There is every kind of Outing Flannel and Flannellette that was ever made and every style and every color.

The prices are from 7 cts. to 18 cts.

Ten cents is the great price. It is a fact that we have now over seventy-five different patterns and colors of Outings at 10 cts. per yard.

In the last lot came some remarkably fine ones called "Chamois Cloths" that ought to sell for 15 cents. We bought them cheap and have put a "small profit" price on them. They are beauties.

At 12 1-2 cts. there are six different kinds, embracing about thirty different patterns.

Plain colors, stripes, figures and Persian effects.

Come Monday for the Outings if you can, but if not come Tuesday or later. The sale continues all the week.
